Suggested Materials:

Qty.	Stock	Name
4 coils	#61-167	2.5" Remembrance™ memory wire, stainless steel
Approx. 100-120	#24-565	4mm twisted liquid-silver beads, sterling silver
9	#05-301-03-20	3mm faceted Swarovski® crystal bicone beads, siam
4	#48-549-20-4	4-hole box-style spacer bars, sterling silver

Tools: Heavy-duty flush cutters, heavy-duty round-nose pliers

To make this design:

1. Start by cutting four even coils of memory wire. Add them to a spacer bar, and create a small loop at one end of each piece of wire with heavy-duty round-nose pliers.
2. Add approximately six silver beads to each piece of wire, and then add a second spacer bar.
3. Add more silver beads to each wire. After the eighth bead on the top wire, add a crystal. Add the other crystal beads in a graduated fashion to each wire section. (For example, add a crystal after 9 beads on the second wire, after 10 on the third and after 11 on the fourth).
4. Continue to add silver beads to each wire, alternating with crystals to create a W pattern.
5. After you are happy with your “W,” you’ll add the same amount of liquid-silver beads, per wire, that you added before your crystal pattern. This works out to be roughly 40 beads on all four wires. Add the third spacer bar and six more silver beads to each wire.
6. Finish with a final spacer bar. Use heavy-duty round-nose pliers to carefully loop the memory-wire ends, securing the beads and finishing the bracelet.
