Tools: Cutters, round-nose pliers, ruler

To make this design:

1. Cut approximately 7” of chain. Adjust this length depending on your wrist size.
2. Attach one sterling jump ring to one end of the chain and one side of the toggle clasp. Repeat for other side of toggle and set aside.

Create paua shell chip dangles:

3. Attach one jump ring to one paua chip. Repeat for a total of three dangles.
4. Attach 2 jump rings to the deco swirl connector, one at each end. Attach a paua chip to one of the jump rings. Repeat for a total of five dangles.

Create free-form dangles:

5. Create 29 free-form beaded head pin dangles. This bracelet uses the beaded head pin patterns listed on the next page, but you can use any combination of the beads listed in your own patterns.
6. Make loops at the tops of each beaded head pin.
7. Attach paua chip dangles, beaded head pins and leaf pendants onto chain in random and pleasing fashion.

Free-form beaded dangles shown use the following amounts in these patterns:
