

“Poison Ivy’s Envy” Bracelet

As seen in the 2008 Super Supplement

Created by: Josie Arndt
Inspired by Batman’s first female foe!

Suggested Materials:

Qty.	Stock	Name
Spool	#61-738-49-925	0.024" 49-strand Beadalon®, sterling silver
2	#41-551-32	Center-crimp tubes with loop, sterling silver
1	#39-550-U	Flower toggle clasp, sterling silver
9	#24-949-03	Double-curved tube beads, sterling silver
2	#37-213	2.4mm round jump rings, sterling silver
Vial	#20-228-384	Size 11/0 Toho® seed beads, emerald/silver lined
8	#05-744-05-24	5mm Swarovski® crystal flowers, jet
1 pkg.	#05-301-04-907	4mm Swarovski Crystal Jams™, “Bein’ Green”

Tools needed:

Crimping pliers (#65-010 or 65-012), cutters (#65-700)

To make this design:

1. Begin by cutting two lengths of Beadalon 1 ½” longer than the desired length of your bracelet. Insert both ends into one of your center crimp tubes and crimp.
2. Next, string 3 emerald seed beads on each wire, then, on the bottom strand (as pictured), add 1 Crystal Jams bicone and 1 more seed bead. On the top strand (as pictured), string 3 seed beads then string one side of a double-curved tube bead. String the bottom strand through the other side. Now, on the top strand, string 2 seed beads, 1 crystal bicone, and 3 more seed beads. On the bottom strand, add 3 seed beads, a flower crystal, and 2 more seed beads. Now, string the bottom strand into one side of a double-curved tube bead and the top strand into the other side of the tube bead. Repeat this pattern, alternating bicones and flowers on each side, until you come approximately one inch short of the total desired length of your bracelet.
3. To finish, string enough beads after the last double-curved tube bead to finish the pattern evenly, and insert both wire ends into your other crimp tube with loop. Crimp the tube and cut excess wire with your cutters.
4. Attach each end of the toggle clasp to the crimp loops, using jump rings.

TIP: If you use the suggested toggle clasp for this piece, it is necessary to use the exact jump rings listed, because they are the only size that fits with this design.